

in regard to the advantage of Belvidere as the terminus of this road. A road extending from Stanhope down the valley of the Muscatcong to Easton would be six miles longer than to Belvidere. It would have to compete immediately with the Morris Canal, and the Delaware division of the Pennsylvania Canal for eight months in the year; and probably at a future time with two other rail roads, one extending from Somerville and the other from Trenton—charters for which have already been granted.

With Belvidere for the terminus, it has a monopoly of the whole trade at all seasons of the year.

Should the northern route be taken, down the valley of the Paulin's Kill to Columbia, near the Water Gap, the distance would be increased about fifteen miles; and should it ever be contemplated to extend the road to that point, it could be done from Belvidere without increasing the distance more than a couple of miles, and probably not even so much. Besides a road made now in that direction would not receive the passengers or freight from the country in the vicinity of Belvidere, which would still continue on the old route to Easton, and all passengers for Schooley's Mountain, Belvidere and Wilkesbarre would be lost. With Belvidere for a terminus, all above it must come down, and it would draw up all within seven miles of Easton.

It has already been shown that if this road is made, there is every prospect of a large interest in the investment from the present resources of the country. Should the rail road which is now in contemplation from the coal regions in Pennsylvania to the Delaware Water Gap ever be made, the charter under which the road is authorized to be constructed from Stanhope to Belvidere, will allow a lateral road to be made up the valley of the Delaware to meet the road from the coal regions; and as there is very little fall in the Delaware, and no difficulties to be encountered on the route, this would be a most important extension as soon as the Pennsylvania road was completed.

If the coal taken never reached New York the supply for the Iron Works along the rail road from Belvidere to Stanhope, and for the general supply of the country in the vicinity, would be a very considerable item in the receipts of the road.

There are various other items which might be included in the estimates of the probable receipts of the contemplated road, but it is to be hoped enough has been stated to show that the prospects of a handsome return for the money invested, is as great as that of any other rail road that has ever been projected in the country.

A FARMER.
March 29th, 1847.

We find the following interesting incidents in the Newark Advertiser:—Col. Hardin, before being killed at Buena Vista, captured a flag from the enemy, which, with his horse, he requested to be sent home as a fast memento to his wife.

Among the prisoners taken were two deserters from our ranks. Gen. Taylor ordered that they be drummed beyond the lines with the Rogue's March, they being only fit for Santa Anna, not worth the powder to shoot them!

Our soldiers shared their biscuit and water with the wounded Mexicans.

END OF ANTI-RENTISM.—The tenants on the Van Rensselaer manor lands, are purchasing the title to the property they occupy at $2 per acre. Thus the lessees are, in their own quiet way, settling the anti rent question without further excitement, by purchasing the land.

TO BE FULL OF LIFE one must be full of health, and to be full of health we must have a free, unobstructed circulation of the blood. A disordered liver blunts the mental perceptions, and a disordered stomach will sour the sweetest temper. To be gloriously "blue," and to be suffering from a derangement of the digestive functions, are the same thing. Personal quarrels and social unhappiness, originate in this cause to a greater extent than people have any idea of. Reform the stomach and you reform the world, for this is the foundation of all reforms. To this end take a dose or two of Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills. At this season they would do much good, and will be the means, if directly used, of keeping the system in order during the year. And while they drive pain of all kinds away, they will remove depression of spirits, scuminess of temper, undue excitability, and the whole legion of "devils blue," and substitute therefor comfort, cheerfulness, happiness.

Beware of Counterfeits.—The public are cautioned against the many spurious medicines, which in order to deceive are called by names similar to Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills.

For sale by George H. Miller, Stroudsburg, who is the only authorized agent for that place; see advertisement for other agencies in another column. Office and general depot, 169 Race st., Phil'a.

It is Written

In the Book of Nature and Common Sense, that the natural vegetable productions of every country are, if properly applied, amply sufficient for the cure of every malady incident to each peculiar climate.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, of the North American College of Health, are composed of plants which grow spontaneously on our own soil, and are therefore better adapted to our constitutions than medicines concocted from foreign Drugs, however well they may be compounded; and as they are founded upon the principle that the human body is in truth

Subject to but One Disease, viz: corrupt humors, and that said medicine cures this disease on

Natural Principles by cleansing and purifying the body; it will be manifest, that if the constitution be not entirely exhausted—a perseverance in their use, according to directions, is absolutely certain to drive disease of every name from the body.

When we wish to restore a swamp or morass to fertility, we drain it of the superabundant waters; in like manner if we wish to restore the body to health, we must cleanse it of impurity.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills will be found one of the best, if not the very best medicine in the world for carrying out this

Grand Purifying Principle, because they expel from the body all morbid and corrupt humors, the cause of disease, in an easy and natural manner; and while they every day

Give Ease and Pleasure, disease of every name is rapidly driven from the body.

The following Agencies have been established for the sale of Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, in

MONROE COUNTY.

George H. Miller, Stroudsburg
